PRAYER Father God as we journey on together we ask that you guide us by your Holy Spirit in each of our meetings and know that you Jesus, is the WAY, the TRUTH and the LIFE. Amen

My thought for the week Most of us go through life quite content with our "lot". We have a nice warm home, food on the table, friends and relatives around us: life is good and we drift along from year to year. This can all change in an instant. We have a car accident no one is necessary hurt but we have all the stress of insurance claims. Someone in our life is suddenly ill. We loose our job that we have faithfully fulfilled for many years. Suddenly our whole existence has changed. we struggle to keep a roof over our heads to pay our bills and look after our families.

I expect people in war torn areas were content with their lives a few short years ago but it changes in an instant and they have lost everything.

All these things can cause people to be stressed, suffer from anxiety and mental problems, but there is one thing in all these things that is constant in the good times and the bad. The love of our Lord Jesus, he is always there and ready to listen to all our problems and concerns, like the famous picture of the footprints where we ask why do the footprints start off with two sets and then become only one, when asked why Jesus says that is when I was carrying you. Take him into your hearts today and share your concerns in prayer, we may not always get the answers we expect but we can be sure he will be carrying us in all our situations, just pray that he is in your life continuously and he will lead you through whatever life throws at you good and bad. Amen
